

Look at the labels on packets, tins and fruit labels. Mark on the map where the different foods are from and draw a picture e.g. bananas from the Philippines. Or cut out a label and stick it on the map next to the correct country. If you cannot print the map, do not worry – perhaps you could draw the food and ask a parent to write the country for you to copy next to the food.

